Denmark suffers from a quite medicvol panelty of surnames, and so inconvenient is this fact becoming that the government has announced its Intention of presenting a bill to the legislature sanctioning and encouraging the adoption of new surnames. Such names at Hansen, Petersen and Sverensen are overwhelmingly frequent. It is even said that there are towns of 30,000 inhabitagts among whom there will not or cound more than 20 different names, as many as a thousand different people having the same surname.

Proof Positive. Tom-But do you think you can support a wife?

Dich-Of course. Why, I've been gitgaged two years. "Well?"

* "THE MODEL CLTY."

Interesting Sermon by Rev. Cook at Christian Church

"The Model City" was the sub-ject of the sermon at the Christian church last Sunday night, and the remarks by the speaker were so that, by request, an outline of the sermon is herewith reproduced. Mr. Cook referred to the fact that in a few years the cities would control the country; that the im-provements of the city, or lack of hem, reflected the life and ideals The best meats, fine pork sausage of the citizens; that the thieves, veal and anything else in the meat how below trained and harlots of ten years hence are
